

CONTEXT FLOW DIAGRAM

The Context flow diagram shows a system as a single process with input or output flowing to or from external entities. It is also known as level 0 of DFD. The Context flow diagram for construction of software is shown in this figure.

The environment in which software used is depicted in this picture. The Context flow diagram shows external entity acting on the software.

